WHEREAS, on September 30, 2020, the Governor issued Executive Order 169, authorizing the opening of several new categories of businesses, subject to limits on capacity and under distancing and sanitation standards all in an effort to limit the spread of COVID-19 while still permitting the expansion of business and personal activities, which has been extended by Executive Orders 170, 176, and 180, and amended by Executive Order 176 to reduce the authorized size of indoor mass gatherings and further amended by Executive Order 180 to strengthen and expand the mandate to wear face coverings; and

B. Back on the Bull (backonthebull.com)

A product of the Recovery and Renewal Task Force, comprised of public health experts, industry leaders, and the Durham Chamber of Commerce, and other community stakeholders, Back on the Bull is a public information resource which includes voluntary, self-certification processes based on public health best practices reviewed by the Durham County Director of Public Health.

This guidance offers industry-specific models of how to reopen safely and demonstrate to residents, customers, guests, and visitors, that the business is voluntarily adopting best public health practices. It is intended to be a tool to help our community feel confidence in the safety and sanitation plans of the businesses who choose to self-certify.
